THE HONEYWELL MEDICAL PLAN

The Honeywell Medical Plan gives you the flexibility to go in- or out-of-network when you need care. You receive a higher level of coinsurance when you use in-network providers. You must meet an annual deductible before the plan starts to pay benefits. Because of the importance of preventive care, in-network preventive care is covered at 100% and is not subject to the in-network deductible. To help protect you in the case of a serious medical situation, the plan includes features that limit your financial exposure.

WHAT’S “PREVENTIVE CARE”?

Keeping up with regular preventive care is an effective way to maintain good health and identify potential health issues as early as possible. Preventive care benefits are subject to the plan’s rules, including age and frequency limits.

Visit Benefits.Honeywell.com to explore your health care benefits and resources available to you and review more details for new hires.

HOW THE MEDICAL PLAN WORKS

- 01 Preventive care. In-network preventive care, including certain generic preventive drugs, is covered at 100% and is not subject to the annual deductible.
- 02 Annual deductible. Before the plan covers your non-preventive care (like a hospital stay, doctor visit, specialist care, or prescription drugs), you must meet the annual deductible.

ANNUAL DEDUCTIBLE

In-Network ¹	Out-of-Network ¹
• $1,700 for single coverage	• $3,000 for single coverage
• $3,400 for family coverage (one or more dependents) ²	• $6,000 for family coverage (one or more dependents) ²

¹ Out-of-network expenses do not apply to the in-network deductible and in-network expenses do not apply to the out-of-network deductible.

² The full family deductible must be met before anyone in the family can receive benefits and coinsurance begins.

MEDICAL PLAN NETWORKS

When you enroll for benefits, you can select the medical plan network right for you. Visit www.cigna.com and www.horizonblue.com/honeywell for details. Be sure to continue to check the network of doctors throughout the year. Note that Kaiser Permanente may be offered at certain locations.

03 Coinsurance. Once the deductible is met, you and the plan will begin sharing in the cost of services through coinsurance.

In most cases, you pay less when you visit in-network providers because they provide services at lower, negotiated rates and the coverage is greater:

- For in-network care: Honeywell pays 80% and you pay the remaining 20% after the in-network deductible is met.
- For out-of-network care: Honeywell pays 50% of the allowable amount* and you pay the remaining costs after the out-of-network deductible is met.

* 110% of Medicare RBRVS.

These coinsurance rates apply to Covered Services including primary and specialty care office visits, prescription drugs, hospital stays, and emergency room visits. Refer to your Summary Plan Description for information on Covered Services.

04 Out-of-pocket maximum. The most you'll pay out of pocket for Covered Services during the year (the out-of-pocket maximum) is shown in the table below, and depends on your annualized base pay, coverage level and whether you seek care in- or out-of-network. Once you meet this maximum, Covered Services are paid at 100% for the remainder of the year. (Note: Coinsurance expenses and the annual deductible all count toward the out-of-pocket maximum.)

OUT-OF-POCKET MAXIMUM
In-Network ¹	Out-of-Network ¹
If your annualized base pay is $50,000 or less: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • $2,900 for single coverage • $5,800 per family 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • $8,000 for single coverage • $16,000 for family coverage (one or more dependents)
If your annualized base pay is over $50,000: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • $4,400 for single coverage • $8,800 per family

¹ Out-of-network expenses do not apply to the in-network maximum. In-network expenses do not apply to the out-of-network maximum.

WHAT ABOUT MY CONTRIBUTIONS?

You and Honeywell share in the cost of coverage (payroll contributions for medical coverage).

FOR EMPLOYEES COVERING ONE OR MORE DEPENDENTS

The full family annual deductible must be met before anyone in the family can receive benefits and coinsurance begins.

- Until you satisfy the plan's annual deductible, you will pay the full cost of the prescription (which can vary by pharmacy).
- Once you meet the annual deductible, Honeywell will pay for 80% of each covered prescription drug if you use a network pharmacy and you will be responsible for the remaining 20%.
- If you satisfy the plan's out-of-pocket maximum, covered prescription drugs are paid at 100%.

Certain preventive generic drugs may be covered at 100% when purchased via mail order or CVS Maintenance Choice program.

After you satisfy the deductible, there is a cap per prescription for covered drugs to limit your financial exposure for high-cost prescription drugs. The cap is $200 for retail prescription drugs and $400 for a 90-day supply through the mail or a CVS Pharmacy.

HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT

HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT CONTRIBUTIONS

The IRS maximum allowable annual HSA contributions for 2024 are $4,150 for single coverage and $8,300 for family coverage. If you are age 55 or older by December 31, 2024, you can contribute an additional annual catch-up contribution of $1,000.

If you enroll in the Honeywell Medical Plan, you may choose to contribute to a Health Savings Account (HSA) with Bank of America. An HSA is an account established to pay for qualified medical expenses. When you enroll in an HSA, you determine how much you would like to contribute from your paycheck on a pre-tax basis, lowering your taxable income, while saving for current and future medical expenses.

All HSA contributions, whether made by you or by Honeywell, count toward the applicable IRS maximum. You may be subject to tax penalties or other adverse tax consequences if you exceed the IRS maximum, for any reason including:

- you become HSA eligible or lose HSA eligibility mid-year (e.g., because you are no longer enrolled in an HDHP, or because you enroll in disqualifying coverage or become entitled to Medicare),
- you have a life event that affects your coverage level (e.g., change from family coverage to individual coverage due to divorce or death), or
- you make or receive a one-time lump sum HSA contribution (including any Honeywell contributions you might be eligible for as a result of certain programs, including a Wellness Program).

It is your responsibility to manage your HSA and to ensure that you do not exceed the IRS maximum. You should monitor, and if needed, make appropriate changes to your annual pledge. HSA contribution election changes may be made once every 30 days.

More information about HSAs is available from IRS Publication 969. Consult a personal tax professional for further information on HSAs and associated tax treatment.

The information in this communication is not intended as tax advice and should not be relied upon as such. Please consult a tax professional for specific information on your individual situation and tax obligations. Federal and state laws and regulations are subject to change.

When to Use Your HSA	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may use the HSA to pay for eligible out-of-pocket medical costs, applying to your deductible and coinsurance (including prescription drugs) • You may also use the HSA to pay for certain over-the-counter medications if you have a prescription from your doctor • Please visit www.irs.gov for details on qualified expenses under the HSA • Any HSA funds used for purposes other than qualified medical expenses will be fully taxable and may be subject to a 20% penalty

*Applies if you are covering one or more dependents under the Honeywell Medical Plan.

KEY DIFFERENCES: HSA VS. LPPFSA

If you are considering contributing, it's important to understand the special tax rules that apply and to make your enrollment decisions based on the HSA eligibility provisions, as well as the provisions applicable to the Limited Purpose Health Care FSA (LPPFSA).

If you are eligible for the Honeywell Medical Plan and decide to waive coverage, you are not eligible to make contributions to an HSA through Honeywell payroll deductions, but you can contribute through Honeywell payroll deductions to the Limited Purpose Health Care FSA. Keep in mind that the Limited Purpose Health Care FSA is only for dental and vision expenses.

IMPORTANT NOTE ABOUT HSA ELIGIBILITY

When you enroll in the Honeywell Medical Plan, you are eligible to elect to contribute to an HSA through Honeywell payroll deductions. You are not eligible to contribute to an HSA if you are:

- Enrolled in another medical program that is not a high deductible health plan (for example, through a spouse/domestic partner's employer).
- Enrolled in Medicare Parts A and/or B.
- Enrolled in Tricare (benefits offered to military personnel).
- Covered as a dependent under a Health Care FSA (such as through your spouse/domestic partner's employer).

LIMITED PURPOSE HEALTH CARE FSA

Employees who are offered the Honeywell Medical Plan may enroll in a Limited Purpose Health Care FSA with Bank of America for eligible dental and vision expenses. While dental and vision expenses could be paid from your HSA, contributing to a Limited Purpose FSA preserves your HSA balance for other health care expenses and allows it to grow for future use.

The Limited Purpose FSA generally works the same way as a standard Health Care FSA. You contribute pre-tax dollars to the account through payroll contributions. You must "use it or lose it" during the year — meaning you must use all the funds in the account by December 31 or they will be forfeited at year-end. (Keep in mind cosmetic procedures such as teeth bleaching are not eligible under any FSA.)

The Limited Purpose FSA can only be used for eligible dental and vision expenses. Annual maximum contribution rates apply.
